May it pleaſe your Grace,

WE the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament aſſembled, humbly preſent to your Grace our Thanks for your excellent Speech from the Throne; and beg Leave to declare, unanimouſly, our unfeigned Joy upon your Grace's Return to the Government of this Kingdom.

Our Experience of that Candour, which adds Luſtre to the many eminent Virtues inherent in your Grace, will not ſuffer us to doubt, that we have been, and ſhall be, upon all Occaſions, faithfully repreſented to His Majeſty by your Grace, as moſt zealouſly devoted to his Sacred Perſon, Royal Family, and Government.

We ſhould as ill conſult our Intereſt as our Dignity, did we not reſolve fully to anſwer your Grace's juſt Expectations, by conducting all our Proceedings with Candour, Temper, and Unanimity. They are the genuine Reſult of Intereſt of our Country.

The Proteſtant Charter Schools, eſtabliſhed under the happy Influence of your Grace's former Government, and upon all Occaſions affectionately recommended by your Grace, are deſervedly the Object of our conſtant Attention; and we ſhall induſtriouſly improve every Opportunity of extending the Benefits of that wiſe and uſeful Inſtitution.

The Aſſurance of your Grace's Aſſiſtance, ſo often and ſo ſignally experienced, cannot fail to animate our Endeavours for the farther Advancement of the Linen Manufacture, the moſt valuable and important Branch of our Trade: The preſent flouriſhing State of it we thankfully attribute to the repeated Inſtances of His Majeſty's Paternal Goodneſs, and rely, with all dutiful Confidence, on the Continuance of the ſame Royal Favour and Protection.

Your Grace has, with the juſteſt Reaſon, declined making Profeſſions of your Zeal for the Welfare of this Kingdom. Your Grace's Conduct, through the whole Courſe of your former and preſent Adminiſtration, is our ſure Pledge of your unalterable Regard to the true Intereſt of Ireland.

Warm with theſe Sentiments, we think ourſelves called upon, by every Motive, of Prudence, Gratitude, and Juſtice, chearfully to concur in every Meaſure which may moſt effectually promote the publick Service, maintain the Dignity and Honour of His Majeſty's Government, and render it, as far as in us lies, eaſy and happy in your Grace's Hands.

Hen. Baker Sterne, Cler. Parliamentor.

The Lord Lieutenant's Anſwer.

I Am extremely obliged to your Lordſhips for this very affectionate Addreſs. I cannot ſufficiently acknowledge the many Inſtances I have received of your Regard and Approbation. You may depend upon the Continuance of my ſincereſt Endeavours to promote the Proſperity and Happineſs of this Kingdom.

WE His Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland in Parliament aſſembled, return your Grace our moſt humble Thanks for your moſt excellent Speech from the Throne, and beg Leave, at the ſame Time, to congratulate your Grace on your Return to the Government of this Kingdom.

The Juſtice your Grace does to our zealous Affections to His Majeſty; your faithful Repreſentations of our inviolable Attachment to His Sacred Perſon, Royal Family and Government; your Regard to the Honour of His Crown; and your ſincere Wiſhes for the Proſperity of this Kingdom, cannot fail of raiſing in us proper Acknowledgments, and of engaging us to proceed in the Buſineſs of this Seſſions, with Candour, Temper, and Unanimity.

The Support of His Majeſty's Dignity, the Eaſe and Honour of the Government of this Kingdom, can never be out of the View of the moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects to the beſt of Kings.

E. Sterling, H. Alcock, } Cler. Dom. Com.

The Lord Lieutenant's Anſwer.

Naples, September 20. The King made another Tour on Saturday laſt to Caſerta, from whence his Majeſty returned the ſame Night. It is generally thought, that the Prince d'Ardore, formerly Ambaſſador from this Court to that of France, will be appointed Vice-Roy of Sicily. Yeſterday an Expreſs arrived from Verſailles, with the News, that the Dauphineſs, Siſter to the Queen our moſt gracious Sovereign, was happily delivered, the 8th of this Month, of a Prince.

Genoa, Sept. 22. A Placart has been publiſhed here, within theſe few Days, in which the Government declares, that although the Commonalty and People of St. Remo have rendered themſelves guilty of Rebellion, by the Step which they had taken in the Month of June laſt; and in Conſequence of which, there was all the Reaſon in the World ſeverely to chaſtiſe them; yet the Republick, from a Principle of Clemency which ſhe ſhews to all her Subjects, has determined to offer a general Pardon to all thoſe who have had any Part in the ſaid Commotion.

Madrid, Oct. 1. By a Letter from Faro, dated the 15th of Auguſt, we have the following melancholy Account. Two Days ago the Captain of a Catalan Veſſel, which came to anchor off that Place, wrote to the Spaniſh Conſul there, acquainting him, that he had met at Sea a Brigantine, without any People on board, which, by the Papers he had found, he judged to be Engliſh, for which Reaſon he deſired that one of that Nation might be ſent to him. Accordingly John Lampriere, a Britiſh Merchant of that Place, went immediately, when the Captain informed him, that about Eight o'Clock that Morning, he met the abovementioned Brigantine at Sea, and ſuſpecting, by her ſailing, that ſhe had no one to direct her Courſe, he ſent ſome of his Men in his Boat to examine her, who, as he expected, did not find any living Creature on board; that they obſerved every Thing to be in great Diſorder, the Maſter's Eſcrutore broke open, and ſome Blood dried upon the Floor near the Cabin; by which, as well as by ſeveral other Circumſtances, they imagined that ſome Violence had been committed. Mr. Lampriere went immediately on board the Brigantine to take Poſſeſſion of her, when he found all the Catalans had ſaid to be exactly true, and her Cargo untouched. By the Papers found on board, it appeared, that this Veſſel is the Chriſtopher, John Herron, Maſter, bound from Malaga to Dublin. There were ſeveral [illegible] in the Cabin, and a rough Journoon of Friday the 10th of August, off the Mediterranean Pass. Since receiving the above Account from Faro, we have been informed by Letters from Cadiz, that upon News being received there of what had happened to the English Brigantine, mentioned above, they had ſtopped a ſmall Veſſel, which had been obſerved (though no one could give any Account of her) to put in ſeveral Times at a Place called Huelva in Andalucia: Five of her Crew were taken; but the reſt, amounting to about twenty more, were ſaid to be gone upon an Expedition, to ſeize two new Xebeques, that were in a ſmall Port near Huelva, called Moguer. Theſe Letters add, that this Gang of Pyrates conſiſts of People of ſeveral Nations, and that the five, who were taken, were to be tried in a ſhort Time, when it was not doubted but that they would, amongſt other Things, confeſs the above Affair, as Pieces of the Mediterranean Paſs, belonging to the Brigantine, were, it was ſaid, found upon them.

Hambourg, Oct. 5. We are very attentive here to ſee the Orders obſerved, which our Council of Regency have judged proper to preſcribe, with Regard to the Veſſels and Merchandizes, which ſhall arrive in our Port from the Levant, and in particular from the Iſle of Rhodes, where the Plague has for ſome Time committed great Ravages. According to the laſt Advices which we have received here from Peterſbourg, the Ruſſian Squadron, which has been cruizing in the Baltick, in order to exerciſe the Sailors, is daily expected to return into the Ports of Conſtadt and Revel, there to be laid up.
